Call for NGOs

Selection of Youth Led Entities on the Sustainable Development Goals Streamlining

About Aie Serve

Aie Serve is a youth-led, youth empowerment NGO established in 2007 with the core values of Respect, Acceptance, and Love. We believe in the model of empowering youth, acting as an enabler, for them to serve and develop their local communities. We have several programs operating for more than 12 years: Aie Clubs, Aie Consult, Aie Skills, Aie Power and Aie Exchange. We have implemented small projects that lasted between a few months to more than a year. Some of them include youth capacity-building workshops, camps and Training of Trainers (ToT), assessing and consulting youth on establishing or enhancing their own NGOs, youth exchange programs, youth mental health-related programs, youth economic empowerment (employability, upskilling, and entrepreneurship), among others.

About the Project & Scope of Work:

Aie Serve developed a guide for youth-led NGOs to support them in becoming more streamlined with the SDGs and has a group of youth facilitators ready to support those organizations in the journey. Aie Serve is preparing to coach 5 youth led NGOs as a pilot project before rolling out the guide for general public use. The support/coaching process will not take more than 1 month and will be through online meetings and working sessions with our facilitators and team.

Benefits for Organizations:

- Free of charge services offered by Aie Serve & facilitators to align the organization's work with the SDGs.
- Marketing & outreach as a pioneering organization participating in this initiative.
- Exposure to potential donors and other stakeholders showcasing how the organization aligns with the SDGs.
